NORTH DAKOTA REPUBLICANS TO HOLD STATE CONVENTION IN FARGO, APRIL 5 – 6, 2024

Sandra Sanford, Chairwoman of The North Dakota Republican Party (NDGOP) is pleased to announce its 2024 State Convention set to take place in Fargo at the Sanford Health Athletic Complex on Friday and Saturday, the 5th and 6th of April.

“The State Convention is always a great opportunity to engage with Republicans and candidates from across the state,” said Sandi Sanford, NDGOP Chair. “We’re excited to be back in Fargo this year. Conventions held in the Red River Valley always draw a crowd, and with the upcoming Presidential election, this could easily be one of our largest conventions ever.”

The two-day event will bring together speakers, delegates, party members, and guests for a comprehensive agenda. The business items on the agenda include endorsing candidates for Governor, Congressional Representative, Insurance Commissioner, Public Service Commissioner, State Auditor, and State Treasurer. Delegates will also elect a National Committeeman and National Committeewoman to represent North Dakota Republicans at the RNC and delegates to the National Convention in Milwaukee.

“While the NDGOP is a private organization and membership is required to participate, the state convention is a good way for citizens from every walk of life to engage in choosing their elected leaders,” said Sanford. “Endorsement by a state party is a highly consequential process that can literally shape the future of our state and our country.”

The convention will include the Governor’s Dinner, The Chairwoman’s Prayer Breakfast, and an opening night party. Governor Mike Huckabee is the keynote speaker for the convention and will present on Saturday afternoon.
