

THE NORTH DAKOTA REPUBLICAN PARTY STATE COMMITTEE RULES

PREAMBLE

The powers, rights, privileges, and duties of the State Committee and of the Chairman thereof are provided by law, and the State Committee is authorized by law to adopt Rules for its proper governance. The State Committee is the sole Republican organization with statewide representation which is given official standing by law. The State Committee, therefore, is by virtue of law the sole official body endowed with official authority to guide the destiny of The North Dakota Republican Party and to correlate and coordinate all Republican activities and influence throughout North Dakota with that of the Republican Party nationally. The following rules are hereby adopted and declared to be the Rules for the governance and organization of The North Dakota Republican Party.

ARTICLE I – NAME

The name of this organization shall be “The North Dakota Republican Party.”

In all that the people can individually do as well for themselves, a government ought not to interfere.

ARTICLE III – MEMBERSHIP

The North Dakota Republican Party membership shall require payment of annual dues, determined by the State Committee. The State Committee may set the amount of State Party dues by a majority vote. Any dues changes shall take place on January 1 of any given year.

Comment: A person wishing to join The North Dakota Republican Party may submit dues to State Party Headquarters, or to a District by contributing to The North Dakota Republican Party. The District Chair shall sign the vote report. The signed vote report and any physical ballots shall be placed in the report envelope and the report envelope shall be delivered to the Convention Secretary.

In the event of a variance between the vote report and the vote as announced by the District Chair, the vote report shall be the official count unless changed by a polling of the delegation. The Convention Secretary shall repeat the vote and the same shall be recorded.

Section 5.

Before the next District is called, any delegate may demand a polling of his or her delegation. If such a demand is made, the Convention Secretary shall poll the delegation individually and announce and record the vote before proceeding to the next District. The Convention Secretary shall not release the results of any vote report until after the same has been announced by the District Chair.

Section 6.

No delegate or alternate shall be bound by any attempt of any District to impose the unit rule on the delegation.

Section 7.

If two rounds of balloting have been completed, and no candidate has achieved a majority, the candidate with the lowest tally including ties, beginning with the third ballot, on any subsequent ballot shall be eliminated from future ballots. At no time may this section be used to reduce the number of candidates on the ballot to less than two.

Section 8.

The balloting on candidates shall continue until a candidate shall have received a majority of the votes cast of the certified convention delegates casting a vote. If a majority is reached during the announcement and tallying of votes, the Convention Secretary shall continue the calling and counting until every District has announced its vote and all votes are recorded.

At the conclusion of the balloting during which a candidate has received a majority vote of the certified delegates casting a vote, the Convention Chair shall declare the candidate endorsed and the official candidate of The North Dakota Republican Party at the Primary Election to be held in June or elected to the position if the position was an election.

Section 9.

The North Dakota Republican Party through the Rules Committee may establish procedures for electronic balloting during the convention, so long as sufficient assurances are provided via audit trail to protect the integrity of the balloting process of the convention.

RULE NO. 12. MAJORITY REQUIRED

All endorsements and other questions properly before the Convention shall be determined by a majority of the votes cast by delegates certified by the Credentials Committee with the exception of Republican National Convention delegates and alternates provided a quorum is present.

Except as otherwise provided herein, the latest edition of Robert's Rules of Order, Newly Revised, and the North Dakota Century Code shall govern the proceedings of the State Republican Endorsing Convention.

To the extent that any conflicts exist, the Rules of The North Dakota Republican Party State Committee and these Rules take precedence over Robert's Rules of Order, Newly Revised.

RULE NO. 14. VACANCIES

In the event of the death, resignation, disqualification, or disability of any candidate for office, such a vacancy shall be filled by a special convention made up of the Republican State Committee. The North Dakota Republican Party Chair will be responsible for calling such a Special Convention.

RULE NO. 15. REPUBLICAN PRESIDENTIAL CAUCUSES AND CANDIDATE(S) FOR WHOM DELEGATES ARE BOUND TO VOTE AT THE REPUBLICAN NATIONAL CONVENTION

Presidential Caucuses:

The North Dakota Republican Party shall hold Republican Presidential Caucuses in North Dakota on or between March 1 through March 15. Delegates will be awarded proportionally and bound to candidates on the first ballot who receive at least 20% of the votes cast in the Republican Presidential Caucuses. If a candidate garners at least 60% of the votes cast, they will receive all of the delegates.

Delegate Selection:

North Dakota's delegates to the Republican National Convention shall be selected in accordance with applicable state and national Republican Party rules and requirements.

RULE NO. 16. PRESIDENTIAL CAUCUS RULES

Section 1.

Presidential Caucuses will be held on or between March 1st through prior to March 15th the year of the Presidential Election. The Executive Committee shall set the date for the caucuses and hours for voting, which shall be the same throughout the state. The Executive Committee may establish a Presidential Candidate fee payable to The North Dakota Republican Party for candidate participation in the caucuses.

Section 2.

The North Dakota Republican Party shall ensure at least eight physical caucus locations for voting in Presidential Caucuses in Williston, Minot, Devils Lake, Grand Forks, Fargo, Jamestown, Bismarck, and Dickinson. Additional physical locations may be established by Republican Districts working alone or jointly with other districts.

Section 3.

Delegates will be awarded proportionally to candidates who receive at least 20% of the votes cast, unless one candidate receives at least 60% of the votes cast, in which case Section 4 shall apply.

Formula for delegate allocation: Assuming North Dakota had 29 national delegate slots to fill, the following shall serve as an example of how to apply the votes:

If candidate A received 30% of the vote, candidate B received 18% of the vote, candidate C received 21% of the vote, candidate D received 22% of the vote, candidate E received 8% of the vote, and 1% of the vote was spread to various write-ins the delegate allotment in consideration of North Dakota's 29 delegates would be applied as follows.

This example is illustrative of 29 delegate positions.

A: 41% of qualifying votes = (11.89) 12 delegates

B: 0 delegates

C: 29% of qualifying votes = (8.41) 8 delegates

D: 30% of qualifying votes = (8.7) 9 delegates

E: 0 delegates

The formula: Add the percentages of the qualifying candidates (20%+) which were 30%+21% +22%=73%. Next, we take 73% which represents the whole of qualifying candidates and determine what portion of the whole (73%) each candidate garnered:

A: $30/73=41\%$ C: $21/73=29\%$ D: $22/73=30\%$ this gives up our multipliers to determine delegate allotment.

A: $.41 \times 29 = 11.89$ C: $.29 \times 29 = 8.41$ D: $.30 \times 29 = 8.7$

Finally, we divide the delegates accordingly: Each delegate gets the whole number of delegates they received in this case 27. The remaining delegates (2) are allocated to the candidate with the highest fractional portion of a delegate. In this case, the results are as follows:

A: .89 C: .41 D: .7 Candidate A has the highest fractional portion of a delegate at .89 and Candidate D has the next highest at .7.

Candidate A would receive 12 delegates;

Candidate C would receive 8 delegates;

Candidate D would receive 9 delegates.

In the event of a tie the unassigned delegate(s) must elect to be bound to the candidate of their choosing.

Section 4. Winner Take All

If a candidate garners at least 60% of the votes cast that candidate will receive all of the delegates.

Section 5. Candidate Withdrawal, No Reallocation

Should a candidate who received delegates withdraw, suspend his or her campaign or drop from the race prior to the Republican National Convention, those delegates assigned to the candidate shall proceed to the convention unbound.
